

As a mailbox reseller, you can offer your customers first-class email services. And we'll provide the technology.

- ✓ Easy administration
- ✓ Maximum flexibility
- ✓ Strong partnership

Easy administration

Use our easy-to-use web interface or integrate your systems via our API.

Strategic partnership

We offer not just a product, but long-term cooperation as your reliable partner.

Support on request

You remain in control of your own customer support, yet we can also support directly, if desired.

Flexible pricing

You can set your own prices, and all billing processes remain under your control.

What we do better

Secure: End-to-end encryption with PGP and S/MIME, stored in Berlin.

Made and hosted in Germany: Your data is stored securely on our own servers in Germany.

Spam filters and virus protection: Multi-level filters protect your mailbox.

Space for everything: With flexible storage space for emails and files.

Easy switching: Convenient migration service for your existing emails and contacts.

Always available for you: With individual telephone support and a 24/7 emergency hotline.

Other providers

Lack of transparency about data processing and physical server locations.

Data located outside of DE and EU, with backups on US servers.

Spam in your inbox due to weak or unreliable filters.

Limited storage space or hidden costs for storage expansion.

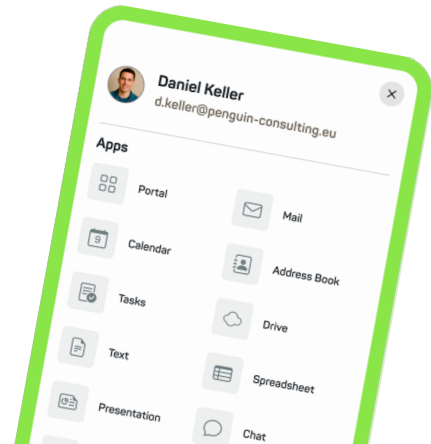

Limited switching options due to vendor lock-in.

AI chat or telephone support that is located abroad.

Your partner for secure communication

The mailbox Suite combines email, calendar, contacts, office, video conferencing and drive in one intuitive solution, operated exclusively in German data centres. It is aimed at companies, public authorities, educational institutions, resellers and private individuals who value security, compliance and ease of use. Behind mailbox is the Heinlein Group, which has been an expert in free and secure communication for over 30 years.
